The map displays the town of Pittsburg, Vermont, with a grid of numbered green circles. The circles are numbered 1 through 156, arranged in a roughly rectangular pattern that follows the town's boundaries. The grid is overlaid on a map showing roads, water bodies, and the town's irregular shape. Red dots are scattered across the map, particularly concentrated in the central and southern areas. The map also shows the borders of Vermont and Maine, and the location of Pittsburg relative to other towns like Montpelier and Waterbury.
